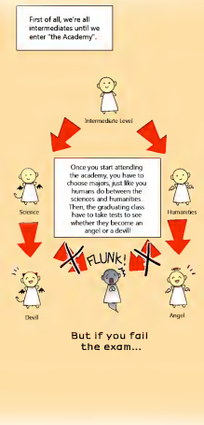
Hey now, nothing in the world is free.
First of all, devils don't even grant wishes!
Why?
Why?! Because you're a devil! A DEVIL! Not an ANGEL!!
You've got to be hiding something! I know it!

These are misconceptions of devils and angels thought up by humans.
You see, there's really not much of a difference. Because an angel and a devil.

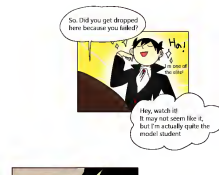
You have them, right? Exam Hell?
We have a literal "Exam "Hell".
*High school students prepare for college exams, which have been endearingly nicknamed, Exam Hell



Intermediate Level
Once you start attending the academy, you have to choose majors, just like you humans do between the sciences and humanities. Then, the graduating class have to take tests to see whether they become an angel or a devil!
Science
Humanities
FLUNK!
Devil
Angel

But if you fail the exam...

In other words, if you're not smart, you're not needed.



While I was taking a nap on a cloud,

Because of my terrible sleeping habits,

AHHHHHHHHH!!
AHHHHHHHH

Everything is gonna be alright~
